COMPANY PROFILE

Company Profile

Infinite Intelligent Technology (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. is a company that does it all in the world of industrial hardware – from designing and developing components to manufacturing and selling them. Our goal is to be the go-to global platform for industrial hardware services. We used to go by the name "Jiarami," and our products were a big hit with both new and loyal customers. Over the past decade, our team has gathered a ton of technical know-how, always putting quality first. We've been tweaking, improving, innovating, and have come up with a whopping 200,000 plus industrial hardware components that are both top-notch and affordable.

Our product range is vast, and our customers come from all walks of industry life – military, medical, wind power, finance, machine tools, communications electronics, aerospace, rail transportation, construction machinery, special vehicles, self-service equipment, logistics equipment, industrial automation, you name it! And if our standard products don't quite fit the bill for you, we're happy to whip up custom industrial components to meet your specific needs.

Our vision is to be the best in the business, globally. We're all about using technology to drive innovation. We're focusing on making our products modular and standardized. And with a fresh approach to service, we're cutting down on the costs of getting our products to you. Our aim is to offer you products that give you the best bang for your buck. We want to be a company you can trust, respected by our peers, and a place where our employees love what they do.

Teamwork, going above and beyond, constant innovation, and giving our all – that's what Infinite is all about. It's not just a cultural thing; it's what keeps us going every day. And it's our commitment to you – our customer. Let's take on the world together and be a part of something great in reviving our national brands.

Constantly striving for perfection Intelligence creating infinite.
